Speech of Napoleon.

LONDON, September 14.—The press of this city variously comment upon the recent speech of Napoleon at Chalons. The following words were made use of by the Emperor on that occasion: "I will say nothing more, as the public prints are sure to draw prophecies of war, however moderate my words are."

The Alabama Claims.

The Times has a long editorial article on American affairs this morning. The writer believes Mr. Johnson, American Minister, has carte blanche from his Government to settle the Alabama case. The case of itself presents little trouble. The only difficulty is the reluctance of the American Government to settle a difficulty growing out of war resentments. No American statesman ever believed that the Alabama escaped with the connivance of Great Britain. There might be a question of inadequate laws, making England answerable, but this could be easily settled. The real grievances of the United States was the indifference of England in the civil war, and her willingness to see the Union dissolved. Of this the Americans were conscious at the time, and remember keenly how they think we should have had an active sympathy with the North; that a Confederacy based on human slavery should have at once been condemned; that the Republican party was the true friend of England; that it was wrong even to doubt the success of the Federal arms. After all, the anger of the Americans was due to their consciousness of sympathy with England's want of sympathy in their hour of peril, but the anger, if right, has been enough indulged. Mr. Seward has refused the handsome offer of America, which should be credited to England. He now cuts the past adrift, and the thing is as good as settled. Legal points will not stand in the way. The only thing to ascertain is the responsibility of England to fix the proper indemnity.

POLITICAL

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

CONCORD, N. H., September 14.—The Republicans of Concord are firing a salute of one hundred guns and have a bonfire in front of the State House, in honor of the Republican victory in Maine.

MASSACHUSETTS.

BOSTON, September 14.—Large Republican meetings were held to-night in various wards, to hear the returns from Maine. In the Fourth ward Hon. Henry Wilson made a long speech, in which he stated Maine would give twenty thousand Republican majority. Charles Sumner also made a speech in the Sixth ward meeting.

POLITICAL.

The Tribune's correspondent at Atlanta gives a gloomy account of the condition of Georgia, and states that it has never been so bad since the surrender of Lee as it is now. The expulsion of the colored members from the Legislature is but the first step in the rebel plan for gaining control of the State. The next, it is said, will be to take from the freedmen the power to vote—not the right to vote, for of that no human power can deprive them. The ultimate aim of the revolution is, in the opinion of the correspondent, the restoration of slavery, not perhaps in name, but certainly in fact.

In Washington efforts are made to bet that Grant will carry every Northern State. The first taker has not yet been heard of.

Jerry Black shares Buchanan's dislike of the Blair family, and said, not long ago: "If old buck knew that a few months after his death his party was to raise Frank Blair to the head of the Senate, the old man's heart would have broken with indignation."

One of the negro speakers in the Georgia Legislature, being sneered at for his rude speech, replied: "You laugh at my ignorance; would you have been any more learned than I am if for fifty-seven years you were not permitted to own a spelling book without running the risk of the lash?" This was a home thrust, but it was not appreciated by the chivalry.

Speaking of local politics, the New York Herald says: The encouraging prospect opened by the result of the Vermont election and the now conceded triumph that awaits the Republicans in Maine, has given a spur to their intent to contest every office in the city that has to be filled in December next. On the Presidential question the Republicans seem to be positive for success, and with this incentive they have thrown themselves heart and soul into the gubernatorial struggle. Their chief efforts in this direction will be persistently devoted to the canvass in this city. There is now a fair prospect of harmonizing the hitherto discordant elements of the party, and should this be effected, as expected within a few days, the city will be treated to a torchlight procession of the Tanners and the Boys in Blue that will throw into the shade the monster processions of the Wide Awakes during the campaigns of 1860 and 1864.

The Hon. George S. Houston, of Alabama, long a member of Congress, is not only a man of eminent ability, but of moderate and conservative character. During the rebellion he took little part in public affairs, and remained at his home near Athens, criticising the conduct of the Confederate authorities with the utmost freedom, and in several cases was treated with great consideration by Union Generals. He has just made a speech at Florence, at a Democratic meeting, a part of which was particularly directed to the colored men in his audience. "He told them," says the Florence Index, "in the most pointed words, that the man who votes for Grant and Colfax is an enemy of his and of the white people of the South, and that he intended to treat all that so vote as enemies."

The Charleston Mercury thus discusses the financial question as applicable to South Carolina:

Fifty thousand dollars are needed to conduct this canvass and carry this State for the Democratic ticket. Shall we have it, or will men button up their pockets, and, passing under the yoke of the African, sink to nothing the value of all that they now own?

Frank Blair thinks an earthquake will follow his election, as will be seen by the following extract from one of his speeches in Dacotah: "The Democratic platform adopted by the party has already frightened thousands from the cowardly ranks of the Radicals, and thousands more will flee. The great masses of this mighty republic have no affinity with the negro. The right of elective franchise is for the white man alone, and the ruinous system introduced into the Radical party and platform is opening the eyes of the people to such an extent that overwhelming majorities will crown our bright, proud banners with such a glorious victory that the huzzas will shake the very earth to its foundations."

This sounds oddly in connection with the fact that throughout the South the Democrats are moving heaven and earth to obtain the negro vote.

The Newark Courier says if the Republicans continue the canvass as it is being prosecuted, New Jersey will surely go for Grant.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING.

Mass Meeting in the Fifteenth Ward.

The Republican voters of the Fifteenth ward held a rousing mass meeting last evening.

An elegant and commodious speaker's stand was built in a vacant lot off Butler street, owned by Mr. Stephen Deiterick.

There was a large crowd in attendance, and the speakers were enthusiastically received.

The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock by T. P. Howard, Esq., and the following officers were elected:

President—Dr. J. H. Robinson.

Vice Presidents—Wm. Janey, Esq., P. McGee, Jr., J. T. Howard, Esq., B. O. Bostworth, Wm. Flaccus, Michael Nickerman, Holland Riddle, George McKee.

Secretaries—Joseph Willison, Geo. Garrison, John Hoerr, Edward Johnson.

R. J. Powers was first introduced, and made a brief and forcible speech, which was loudly cheered.

While Mr. Powers was speaking the Tanner Club of the Sixteenth ward, headed by a martial band, arrived and were greeted with cheers.

Shortly after the arrival of the Club an accident occurred which it was feared for a while would result seriously.

A large limb of a tree in which a number of enterprising youngsters who were present had climbed broke off and crashed down into the crowd. Fortunately no one was injured and order was soon restored.

The Twelfth Ward Tanner Club in uniform arrived shortly after this occurrence and was enthusiastically received.

The First Ward Glee Club sang a patriotic song, which was well received.

W. C. Moreland, Esq., was then loudly called for, and made one of the most brilliant speeches of the campaign. A full report of his able speech will be published hereafter.

The Glee Club then sang another song, after which the meeting adjourned.

Republican Rally in Allegheny.

A grand rally of the Republicans of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, was held last evening, in front of the Bismarck Hotel, on Chestnut street. The meeting was undoubtedly the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in the ward, and was an indication that the people of our sister city are alive to the issues. The Fourth ward minute men, uniformed and equipped with torches, under Captain A. P. Callow, were present. The company bore a beautiful flag, and a banner inscribed with appropriate mottoes, and were headed by the Washington Coronet Band. The campaign singer, Prof. J. Wm. Pope, was present, and entertained the meeting with a number of his choice selections. The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock, by John D. Bailey, Esq., President of the Fourth Ward Grant and Colfax Club, upon whose motion the following officers were elected to preside:

President—R. B. Francis.

Vice President—John S. Slagle, Wm. Brown, John Heckleman, Jr., M. Holtzman, A. N. Burchfield, John Hazlett, Jr., and Theodore Straub.

Secretaries—T. C. Campbell John Keown, C. Schoffer, and the reporters of the Republican press.

Mr. Francis, upon taking the Chair, briefly thanked the meeting for the honor conferred in electing him to preside, and then introduced Prof. Pope who sang the "U. S. Race" in such a manner as to draw forth three rousing cheers. Upon retiring he was loudly called upon, and in response sang "The Two Copperheads" to the great amusement of the audience.

Walter S. McCune, Esq., was then introduced by the chairman, and delivered a very eloquent speech of about an hour's duration.

Prof. Pope then sang a new song, beginning thus:

> This difference to my mind is clear,
> Between the wrong and right, sir,
> If Copperheads will have their bier (beer,)
> Then let us have our Sweitzer.

Mr. Pope was again loudly called upon, and in response sang "The Copperhead in Trouble," to the edification of the audience.

J. J. Siebenick, Esq., was then introduced and delivered a speech in German, entertaining the German portion of the audience for some time in the discussion of the general issues of the day.

At the conclusion of Mr. Siebenick's speech, Prof. Pope sang "The Three Millers," and the meeting adjourned with three cheers for the whole ticket.

Republican Rally in Finley Township.

A rally of the Republicans of Finley and adjoining townships was held at the village of Clinton, on Saturday evening. The meeting, which was a very large and enthusiastic one, was held in the Methodist Church. The Bellevue Glee Club, under the leadership of Mr. W. H. Whitehead, was present, and sang a number of campaign songs in an excellent manner. The meeting was organized by the election of John McClaren, Esq., as President, with a number of Vice Presidents and Secretaries. Eloquent and able speeches on the various issues of the day were then made by Thomas Ewing, Esq., Col. Thomas M. Bayne and J. S. Ferguson, Esq. At the close of the speeches, the meeting adjourned with three cheers for Grant and Colfax.

Republican Meeting in Pine Township.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of Pine township was held at Plankinton's Hotel, on Saturday night. The meeting was called to order by Mr. James Marshall, who introduced Hon. James L. Graham. Senator Graham then entered into a very able discussion of the issues of the campaign, holding the audience for over an hour. He was followed by W. S. McCune, Esq., who made a very eloquent speech of about an hour's duration. At the conclusion of Mr. McCune's speech, the meeting adjourned amid much enthusiasm.

The "Grant Skirmishers" in Allegheny.

A meeting of the Republicans of the First ward, Allegheny, was held last evening at Washington Hall, Rebecca street, for the purpose of completing the organization of the "Grant Skirmishers." The organization was completed by the election of the following officers:

Female Pickpockets Arrested.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Herman M. Ralf, of this city, called at Lynch's dry goods store, on Market street, to make some purchases. There were two well dressed women standing at the counter when she entered, and they crowded to where she was standing at the counter. In a few moments she missed her pocketbook, containing about thirty dollars, but before she had time to make known her loss the women had departed. She then went to the Mayor's office, where she made information against the women, charging them with larceny. Warrants were issued, and officer Gumbert arrested the accused. They gave their names as Mrs. Reamer and Mrs. Carline, and claimed to belong to Philadelphia. They said they were on their way to St. Louis. They denied the accusation, but the pocketbook was found in their possession, which is positive proof of their guilt. They were locked up for a hearing.

The News from Maine.

The general anxiety to hear the news from Maine last evening attracted a large number of our citizens to Fifth avenue in the neighborhood of the newspaper offices. The first news received was through a special to the COMMERCIAL, and was very flattering. A second dispatch more clearly indicated the victory won by the Republicans of Maine, and immediately Fifth avenue was illuminated by brilliant Bengal-lights from the windows of the COMMERCIAL office. In a brief time, the street in front of the office was filled by an anxious crowd, and when the figures were bulletined showing that Maine had increased her majority one hundred per cent. over that of last year, the crowd gave vent to their feelings in enthusiastic cheers for the gallant State "Way down East." Everybody was satisfied with the result of yesterday's work in Maine, and retired to their homes in jubilant spirits.

Salute in Honor of Maine.

The Second Ward (Pittsburgh) Grant and Colfax Club will fire a salute to-night of one hundred guns on the Monongahela wharf. The club will meet at No. 66 Smithfield street this evening to march through the streets of the city, and all Grant Clubs, Tanner Clubs, Minute Men, &c., are invited to join in the procession.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH CHOIR.—A new quartette choir has been organized in the First Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Chas. C. Mellor, organist. They conducted the musical services on last Sabbath in a most creditable manner.

STATE NEWS.

Governor Geary will be absent from the capital for some days.

At a special meeting of the Board of Jewish Ministers of Philadelphia, last week, it was resolved that, owing to the existence of a disease among cattle, the Shochatim Mullers be instructed to examine carefully, including the lungs, as usual, the entire viscera of all animals slaughtered for the use of their people.

All but two of the Protestant clergymen of Erie have addressed a protest to Bishop Mullin, denouncing in severe terms the parade, music, cannon firing, &c., on Sunday, and promising to appeal for legal redress if it is repeated. To this the Bishop replies he will go as far as any one to have a proper observance of Sunday, but suggests the clergymen referred to should direct their attention to military and Masonic funerals.

The furniture store of J. H. Riblett & Co., in Erie, was destroyed by fire Thursday night. Loss estimated at $12,000.

The people of Chambersburg propose to buy the handsome mansion of Col. A. K. McClure for $40,000, and sell it to the Presbytery of Carlisle for $20,000, to be used as a Ladies' Seminary.

All of the slate quarries in the Northampton and Lehigh slate regions are worked to their utmost capacity, and yet the supply is not equal to the demand.

Catholics on Color.

The Catholics are laboring among the freedmen in Baltimore. In their schools and churches white and black sit together. The priests openly declare the doctrine that "God makes no distinction, and the Church cannot."

Commenting upon the above paragraph, the Cincinnati Catholic Telegraph, the leading organ of the Catholic Church in the West, which is edited by Very Rev. Edward Purcell, a brother of the most Rev. Archbishop Purcell, says: The above is from the last number of the Presbyterian Witness. When was the writer of that item born—where has he lived? He must have been taking a Rip Van Winkle snooze for some eighteen hundred years. The Catholic Church has always done this. Blacks and whites study and recite and eat side by side at the College of the Propaganda, Rome. There are now seventeen negroes being educated for priests in one institution in Naples. Last year a negro student carried off the highest prize at the Propaganda, Rome. The same equality prevails in her churches throughout the world.

THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL has the largest circulation of any paper published in Pittsburgh, and goes extensively into all parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and the adjacent country. As an advertising medium, therefore, it has no superior.

THE Republican nominations for Congress in this State are now, we believe, all made. On Saturday, the Republicans of Lancaster, by the "Crawford system," nominated Col. O. J. DICKEY, the late Hon. THADDEUS STEVENS's law partner, for both the short and long term. In a poll of 9,126 votes, Col. DICKEY had a majority of 4,380. He is a talented member of the bar, and for many years has exerted great influence in the political affairs of his District. He will make an able Representative.

THE favorite method of argument adopted by the Ku-Klux should be confined, if possible, to the Southern States. We deprecate its introduction into the North. There is no doubt, however, that the Northern copperheads are inclined to imitate their Southern brethren. Almost every exchange we pick up contains an account of wanton outrage committed upon political meetings. In a word, these arguments should be met with such rejoinders as will prevent their recurrence.

THE Republican Torchlight Procession on the evening of the 25th, and the Mass Convention on the 26th inst., will form one of the grandest political demonstrations ever made in this county, and thousands of persons from the adjoining counties will be here to witness it. All who favor the election of GRANT and COLFAX, especially those doing business on our principal streets, are requested to display their flags on those days, with such other devices as their taste and patriotism may suggest. The main thoroughfares of both cities should be brilliant with banners, and every square should exhibit tokens of encouragement and words of cheer to the tens of thousands who will visit us on that occasion.

THE Democracy are exhausting all their ingenuity in their effort to demonstrate that the secondary proposition in the fourth plank of the Democratic platform should be regarded as the first, and vice versa. If that was the intention of those who framed the platform, they were very unfortunate in the choice of their language. Whoever reads it, however, will perceive at a glance that "Government bonds, and other public securities" were "included" as an after thought, after the question was discussed. The proceedings of the Convention which made the platform shows that "equal taxation of every species of property, according to its real value," was simply the expression of a mutual understanding on the part of the members of the Convention. The trap they set for the bondholders having closed upon themselves, the more it is "pushed," the more uncomfortable their situation becomes, and the more frantic their efforts to escape.

ON the 15th day of July, 1865, General FRANK BLAIR issued an address to his corps, which contains the following language:

> [illegible]

Alluding to the rumors that our troops might find employment in punishing NAPOLEON by expelling MAXIMILIAN from Mexico, he subsequently added:

> [illegible]

Little more than three years have elapsed since the general who told his troops that the principles which govern nations in warfare should be applicable in our civil contests, and that their services demanded that they should be made freeholders in the land they conquered, is now exerting all his influence to render it [illegible] a disgrace. All his efforts are bent to the self-assumed task of restoring rebels to their former power. No parallel to the inconsistency displayed by this political phenomenon can be found in the history of the country. FRANK BLAIR stands out on the canvass divested of every noble incentive; greed for place and power has blunted the little moral sensibility the man ever possessed. Hereafter even his services to his country will only deepen the colors of the badge of disgrace he has earned.

GENERAL GRANT.

The more the country knows of General GRANT as a man the better he is liked. Of him as a leader of our armies and his course since he compelled the rebellion to surrender to him, the country has clear and perfectly satisfactory knowledge, and the admiration for and confidence in him are not limited to party lines.

A letter written by General GRANT to his father, dated at Milliken's Bend, La., April 21st, 1863, has just made its appearance. It was written when he was preparing to fasten on Vicksburg in the early days of the splendid campaign which cut the main artery that supplied the rebellion with life. The main portion of the letter is devoted to the purchase of cotton, the policy of the Government, and his own views concerning permits to speculators. The following quotation, like everything else from his pen, is so indicative of the true man of sense, that it needs not one word of comment:

> [illegible]

It is in the concluding portion of the letter, a more perfect mirror of the man than anything we have yet had—to which we desire to draw special attention. It is this:

> [illegible]

If we knew no more of Gen. GRANT than this letter presents us, we should not be at fault as to the kind of man he is. He desired nothing—he expected nothing—except success [illegible]. He is not moved by a desire for that which men usually most desire. There is no trace of ambition or [illegible] "quiet approval" of his course. "I want [illegible] and will do my part to put down the rebellion," are golden words that indicate the strong individuality and perfect self-reliance of Gen. GRANT. He did his "part." He won success and with it fame everywhere. It was through great ability that he did it—great qualities that make him equal to any duty, and that cause his character to polish like steel. He aims are all true, and the nation feels that whatever power ever falls to his hands will be faithfully exerted for its good. It was so in his rapid ascent, as army after army was given to him, till all of them fell to his command, when he wielded the whole power of the Government as absolutely as any man in any country ever did. The grip of his will and the crushing force of his plans, as shown by his achievements, fully prove GRANT's intellectual power, while his humanity, conscientious rectitude in all things, and perfect sense of justice at all times prove that his heart well matches his mind.

As a candidate, GRANT is stronger than any party. The reason is obvious. The mass of the people perceive that he is as worthy of confidence and support now as when he was crushing the life out of the rebellion. He is the same man now he was then, only we know him better. GRANT having in the past, by great capacity, accomplished whatever he undertook, the minds drawn at once to the conviction that above any other man he is suited for the Presidency at this important crisis in our affairs.

TAKING THEIR REVENGE.

Since the consideration of the fourth demand of the Democratic platform has been "pushed upon public attention," the curiosity manifested concerning its scope has given way to a feeling of indignation and alarm. Intelligent Democrats are now disposed to regard this apparently plausible proposition as an invention not unlike the Trojan Horse. This impression is heightened when the demand is taken in connection with the declaration that the reconstruction acts are "null and void," and the out-spoken sentiments of those who inserted it in the platform. The ulterior object of the authors is apparent. Having failed to accomplish their object by force, they now employ cunning. A rigid enforcement of the demand would be sweet revenge to the South, for it would cripple our energies. "Equal taxation on every species of property" would impose nineteen-twentieths of the taxes upon the North. Our vast manufacturing and mercantile establishments, our net-work of railways, in a word, our superior industry, would be taxed merely to gratify the revenge of those we have beaten in war.

MR. PENDLETON, who is foremost among the advocates of the proposition, has said that the bonds should be subject to State and local taxation. In his hands, this power would be exerted to impair the credit of the Government. The proposition aims a blow at the very heart of the Government. But what else could we expect from a convention composed in part of men whose hands were dyed in the blood of those who battled for the preservation of the Government? To wreak their revenge upon the North by imposing taxes which could not fail to check our progress and industry, to render the honor of the nation a by-word, and to pave the way for repudiation surely would afford the disappointed rebels a sweet revenge. Such a proposition could only emanate from the heart and brain of an enemy to the country.

TAXING EVERYTHING.

The land interest in this country is second to none. In apportioning taxes the National and State governments have scrupulously avoided imposing burdens upon the landholders of the country. As an instance of the manner in which the taxes are apportioned, let us compare the valuation of the real estate in Pennsylvania with the personal property. In 1858, the former was valued at $562,192,000, while the personal property was valued at $[illegible]. It will be seen from these figures that the real estate is valued about three times more than the personal. Under the present law, the former pays nothing directly to national taxation. It pays a small per centage on the income. The tax of upwards of $2,000,000, which was levied by the State government on the above valuation of real estate was abolished in 1862. In relieving the real estate of this burden the State government did not lose that amount, but merely shifted the taxes from the farmers upon wealthy corporations.

Now, we presume there is not a farmer, a manufacturer or a merchant in the country who will deny the manifest justice of this apportionment, and the wisdom of encouraging rather than discouraging agriculture. Neither is there a farmer to be found in the State who will not testify that the abolishment of the State taxes relieved him of a burden [illegible].

With this experience before us, how will they relish the proposition contained in the Democratic platform, which demands "equal taxation of every species of property according to its real value?" How will the farmers of Allegheny county make a living—for it is not a question now of saving, but of living—how will they manage to live and pay five per cent. on the valuation of their farms? When the owner of a farm valued at $5,000, pays $250 taxes upon it, how much will he have left to keep up stock and fences? This is the question they must solve, should the Democratic party succeed.

TOOMBS GOING IT?

General ROBERT TOOMBS is still engaged in the agreeable pastime of firing the Southern heart. In his speech at Cedar Town, Polk county, Georgia, on the 25th ult., he told his hearers: "The Government of your choice has been overthrown, thousands of your fathers, husbands, brothers and sons have perished in its defence, your wives and daughters insulted, your land has been ravaged, your property destroyed, you have been stripped of the commonest rights of freemen, and subjected for years to an insolent and brutal military despotism which has crowned its own infamy in the attempt to make your slaves your masters." Alluding to the Democratic platform he said:

> [illegible]

After showing up Ex-Governor BROWN as a monster of depravity, Mr. TOOMBS concluded with the following peroration:

> [illegible]

In reading the above, it must strike the reader that Mr. TOOMBS is dreadfully disappointed at his inability to "call the roll of his slaves on Bunker Hill monument," else that he is about the last man to die in battle, say nothing about the "last ditch."

WADE HAMPTON'S VICTORY.

The cunning which enabled an unscrupulous ancient to encompass thousands of acres with a single bull's hide, has been excelled in our own day by one of the foremost representatives of Southern chivalry. Hereafter let us hear no more of Yankee cunning and duplicity. When we desire an illustration of cunning and hypocrisy, which will serve either as a model or a warning to future generations, we will forego all allusions to Trojan horses and bull hides; we will seek the model in southern climes. "I asked permission to insert three words in that platform," says WADE HAMPTON, and thereupon he proceeds complacently to inform us what he effected with those three words, which declare the Reconstruction laws "null and void," to wit, The exclusive power to control the Southern States, the overthrow of Congressional legislation, and the expulsion of "carpet-baggers" from the South. With these three words he revolutionizes the government, obliterates all past offences committed by himself and others against the government, places the traitor upon an equal footing with the patriot, and secures a moral victory immeasurably greater than that which he and his brother traitors failed to accomplish in a resort to arms. Should he and his fellow traitors succeed in elevating BLAIR and SEYMOUR, what honors are now hampered in the South; what inducement, what incentive will be held out hereafter to our citizens to defend the government?

Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad.

The specifications for the grading and laying of the track of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad are now in the hands of contractors who propose to bid for the work, and the company affords them [illegible] facilities for an examination of the line. The proposals will be received up to and including the 19th inst., after which due notice will be given of the awards. The Chief Engineer, Benjamin H. Latrobe, Esq., has issued a circular to contractors informing them that they will be expected to begin work within a month after being notified of the allotment, and to complete it at such times in 1869 and 1870 as will allow the road to be opened through from Connellsville to Cumberland not later than the autumn of 1870. The work to be placed under contract, running from a westwardly to an easterly direction, commences about a mile above Connellsville, on the north bank of the Youghiogheny river, [illegible].

CERTAIN papers and writers in New Orleans and the North are engaged in the task of hunting up proof that Butler stole spoons and all sorts of things in that city. But the testimony don't hold water. The statements are bad enough, the swearing of witnesses is direct enough, but their character is not as good as it should be. No unimpeachable man has yet undertaken to back up the allegations. The New Orleans Times, whose reputation is not such as to give weight to its statements, makes the following:

> [illegible]

The use of Mr. Sanford's name places it in the power of General Butler, or any friend, to disprove the above article, and perhaps some one may think it worth while to ask Mr. Sanford to say what he knows concerning the above statement.

SOME weeks ago it was stated that there were organized bands of Ku-Klux in the North as well as in the South, and certain independent Democratic journals pretended to be virtuously indignant at the statement. As this is a secret organization and its operations are conducted upon the assassin's plan, it would be a difficult matter to get at the truth of the statement, but [illegible] we may be satisfied such a society does exist. To enumerate all the acts of violence and threats made against the Republicans in our own and neighboring States would take more time and space than we can afford. But a case in point has recently happened in Greene county, Pa. An unoffending citizen and staunch Republican, Mr. Adam Brown, who had just risen from a sick bed, was attacked by two brothers, John and Elijah South, of the Conservative-Democratic stripe. Mr. Brown was so badly injured that his life is despaired of, and all for the reason that he is a Union Republican. Judging from the names, these Souths must belong to the family of Enoch, who used to supply President Buchanan's wine cellar with "old Monongahela." If so, their Democracy will not be disputed.

GEN. GRANT is passing the time quietly and serenely among his friends and neighbors at Galena and the adjacent country—the first genuine relief from hard labor since he entered the service. It is interesting to know that of his election he entertains no doubt. "If I thought," said he, "I could serve the country as well in my present station as in the Presidential chair, I should care nothing for an election. To give up the place as General is a sacrifice. It suits me; I am grateful that it was given to me; it is for life, and I am sure nothing could be more gratifying to one's ambition. But it seemed to be necessary for me to run as the candidate of those who put down the rebellion, and so I am in the field. I suppose that no man can do just what he wants to, and there stop. Being a candidate, I want to win, of course."

THE soldiers and sailors of West Virginia held a meeting at Grafton on Thursday, at which Gen. T. M. Harris presided, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Soldiers and Sailors' Convention to be held in Philadelphia October 1st and 2d. The following delegates were appointed: G. W. Taggart, L. H. Duval, Thayer Melvin, F. P. Pierpont, W. H. Powell, Thomas Wilson, W. H. Collett, S. B. Mahon, H. F. Kelley and M. H. Gillum. The alternates were appointed, and a resolution adopted authorizing any soldier or sailor from the State who may be in Philadelphia at the time to consider himself added to the list of delegates.

THE Democrats have a very peculiar way of helping the working classes. By sympathizing with the rebels during the war they managed to raise the price of gold to 285, and just when we fancied we were returning to peace and prosperity again they began to talk repudiation, opposed the government and raised gold from 138 up to 150. It is a very fortunate thing for the country that they do not hold two conventions in one year, since one convention has given such an ugly twist to our financial affairs. Much more help of this kind will be the death of poor people.

[illegible]

Probably the Times would speak differently did it know that the above outrage was committed by the police of a Democratic Mayor, one of the said policemen having made a Democratic speech but a few moments before participating in the outrage.

THE half-yearly statement of the Superintendent of Castle Garden shows that there arrived at the port of New York during that period from all parts of Europe 238 steamers and 80 sailing vessels bringing emigrants. In steam vessels there arrived [illegible] cabin passengers and [illegible] in the steerage, while the sailing vessels brought seventy-one in the cabin and [illegible] in the steerage, showing that steam is more and more preferred, even by the poorer classes, for their trip to America.

THE fact is now openly admitted in Memphis that General Forrest is the Grand Commander of the Ku-Klux in that State. Well, there is nothing surprising in this. He has been so charmingly frank in his statement of the Fort Pillow massacre, that the responsibility which attaches to the Grand Commander of the Ku-Klux must be regarded as a matter of trifling importance.

GENERAL ROSECRANS is about stone dead as a public man. There was not much life in him, [illegible] White Sulphur draught [illegible]. The Boston Transcript remarks that the whole affair is an absurdity, and, so far as Rosecrans is concerned, verifies the remark of Fisher Ames that the most troublesome and unmanageable quality in a public man or politician is vanity.

The Nicolson Pavement on Market Street.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

[illegible]

MARKET STREET.

IN a recent speech in Philadelphia, the Hon. Leonard Myers made a statement concerning the exchange of prisoners which has never before been published, to wit: "When Jeff. Thompson, the rebel, was exchanged, he passed through Annapolis. He had the heart of a [illegible]; he had been treated by us with great kindness, and he waited on Jefferson Davis to beg better conduct towards our prisoners. Davis replied: 'We can kill them that way much quicker than in battle.'" [illegible] Let modern Democracy call up Jeff. Thompson as their next witness.

SMALL NOTES.

The advocates of inflation are guilty of the common mistake of confounding one thing with another. They mistake the shadow for the substance. The power of a nation does not depend on its credit, but upon its population, its wealth, its intelligence and its resources. The purpose of all trade is profit, and profit consists in money. Is a promise to pay money? A promise to pay on paper is credit, and will never fulfil the end served by real money. Credit has been aptly expressed as "the means of getting into debt, and the means of getting out." It was in this manner that our national debt accumulated. Credit has also been termed opinion, "and no more than opinion, and the difference between credit and money is, that money requires no opinion to support it." From this it will be seen wherein greenbacks lack the quality and character of money.

Undoubtedly Captain Ericsson is a devoted student, an incessant worker, and the possessor of extraordinary genius, still his labors have not always been rewarded with success. Looking back upon some of his pet theories, which failed to stand a practical test, we are inclined to doubt the displacement of steam by sunbeams. That an engine may be driven by solar heat is possible; we do not doubt the Captain's ability to concentrate sufficient solar heat to accomplish this object. But it can only be under favorable circumstances, such as precludes the practical application of the invention to ordinary daily use. In cloudy weather and at night, to say nothing of the cold season, his engine would be apt to stand still, unless it is composed of something almost as light as a sunbeam.

Buying and selling babies has been reduced to a system in New York. Those who engage in the business keep "establishments," wherein a good many women are killed during the year, leaving babies numbering in the aggregate several hundred, besides the offspring of mothers who do not die and don't want their babies. The little things are regularly advertised, and persons wanting infants to adopt apply as the advertisement directs them, and generally get one for a very low price—say the value of the new rags in which it is wrapped. Sometimes a record is kept of the persons procuring infants in this way, but generally speaking, nothing is known about them, and the mothers of the infants, supposing them to ever get out alive, can never get a trace of their offspring, even if they wished to do so, which many of them do not. We have heard a great deal about the "Wickedest" man, [illegible], but can conceive of nothing so positively "wicked" as this business.

Is Commander Jeffers, of the Swatara, any kin to General Rosecrans? Reading his report reminds us of General Rosecrans's charming simplicity in addressing the rebel generals as the spokesman of the Northern people. The General took his heart in his hand upon that occasion, instead of his brains, a mistake which no doubt has occasioned much chagrin to both himself and those he addressed. So Commander Jeffers in his cruise up and down the African coast devotes a large portion of his time to the discussion of universal (which of course includes negro) suffrage during his interviews with the leading members of the Liberian government, all of which he details at length, and forgetting to mention the fact that the intelligent officials of Liberia were of the opinion that universal suffrage would be injurious and "injudicious" to the emancipated negroes. Commander Jeffers's report may be true, but the question will occur to the reader whether, had the gallant Commander apprised the Liberian officials of his intention to incorporate their desultory remarks in his report, they would not have been more guarded in their conversation. For we will not believe they would be guilty of the stupidity implied in this report. Commander Jeffers has a right to his views; we would not interfere with them simply because they evince a decidedly Democratic tone, but at the present juncture it strikes us that the indulgence in descriptions of after-dinner conversations, in his report to the Department, like the self-appointed mission of Rosecrans, exhibits more self-complacency than wisdom. Hereafter we shall not be astonished if Lieutenant Commander Smith, in his regular report to the Admiralty, indulges in a full and complete history of the latest and best method of preserving pickles. In fact, it would be more to the point, and infinitely preferable, to a chapter on universal suffrage.

The unterrified of the Fifth (late Third) ward after two days of hard labor succeeded yesterday in raising a hickory pole of one hundred or more feet, on the corner of Webster avenue and Tunnel street. The only accident that befel the pole in its ascent was the breaking of a slender stick fastened in the bush at the top of the pole, on which was perched a sheet-iron rooster. The pole was well up at the time and repairs could not be made, so that chanticleer went up feet foremost, and there he is, flat on his back. It was suggested that the rooster was one of the Post's collection, and that he has been sick since the news from Vermont was received. Another party suggested that it was cautious of the news from Maine.

The courtesy displayed by that blatant secessionist, Robert Toombs, towards the negro committee which waited upon him just before he made his speech at Cedartown, Georgia, was only equalled by the admirable endurance he exhibited when he found himself sandwiched between two colored orators. We wonder if Robert had Bunker Hill monument in his mind's eye, as he rose to address his sable entertainers. After that, what pure affectation is exhibited by the Northern Democrats who pretend to hold their noses in the presence of a negro.

The Post brought out one of the extensive brood of roosters to crow over Colorado, where the Republicans have achieved a victory, and the Democrats a defeat. This may be fun for our jolly contemporary, but it is rather hard on the bird.

The New York Citizen makes an appeal for "common sense." It complains that Democrats who were for Chase or some one else in the convention, do Mr. Seymour injustice when they charge him with duplicity and treachery. "A single dissenting voice," it claims, "might have been sufficient to justify Mr. Seymour in resisting the pressure brought to bear upon him." [illegible] The suggestion increases the prevalent disgust felt for Mr. Seymour's fickleness. The man swayed by "a single voice" under such circumstances, is not much of a man. But it is of no consequence now, so far as the future is concerned. These little details and revelations we are occasionally having, are, however, decidedly entertaining.

PERSONAL.

—The Rev. Thomas A. Morris, senior Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in a ministry of over fifty years, never read a written sermon to his congregation, and never had notes before him, when preaching, except three times. Each time he found himself so embarrassed by referring to his notes that he felt like a man trying to run a foot race with his feet hobbled. More than a third of a century ago he resolved, that when his memory so failed that he could not recall the general arrangement of his sermon, without the aid of notes before him, he would quit preaching altogether.

—The New York correspondent of the Chicago Journal, who is in a position to know whereof he speaks, states that the friends of Thurlow Weed, who is now in Europe, are prepared at any moment to hear of the death of that veteran politician, whose failing health is not improved by his foreign sojourn. The same correspondent says, positively, that Secretary Seward is in favor of the election of Grant and Colfax, and will make a speech at Auburn in a short time, advocating their election.

—Captain Robert Lincoln, of Chicago, son of the ex-President, is to be married in Washington city to the daughter of United States Senator Harlan, of Iowa, this week.

—Mr. Greeley's last paper in the Ledger, is entitled "My Dead," in which he mentions the deaths in his family. He concludes as follows in regard to himself: "My life has been busy and anxious, but not joyless. Whether it shall be prolonged few or more years, I am grateful that it has endured so long, and that it has abounded in opportunities for good not wholly unimproved, and in experiences of the nobler as well as the baser impulses of human nature. I have been spared to see the end of giant wrongs, which I once deemed invincible in this country, and to note the silent upspringing and growth of principles and influences which I hail as destined to root out some of the most flagrant and pervading evils that yet remain. I realize that each generation is destined to confront new and peculiar perils—to wrestle with temptations and seductions unknown to its predecessors; yet I trust that progress is a general law of our being, and that the ills and woes of the future shall be less crushing than those of the bloody and baleful past. So, looking calmly, yet humbly, for that close of my mortal career, which cannot be far distant, I reverently thank God for the blessings vouchsafed me in the past; and with an awe that is not fear, and a consciousness of demerit which does not exclude hope, await the opening before my steps of the gates of the eternal world."

—The Prince Imperial dances a good deal at Fontainebleau, although his preceptor, M. Filon, proved himself lamentably deficient in the art on a late occasion, when he was dancing vis-a-vis to the young Prince. M. Filon has accordingly commenced to take lessons in the art, and is showing laudable zeal in improving his situation in this respect. The following words are attributed to his Imperial Highness, which show that his religious education has not been neglected: "When I am Emperor I will have everybody perform his religious duties—I will not have persons without religion." It is said that he shows good aptitude for music, but the Empress rather discourages this inclination in him. "I will not have him a Coburg," was the observation of Her Majesty.

The Great Earthquake.

The South American earthquake will take rank among the most dreadful convulsions of modern times. When all the details are known it may be found to have been more disastrous than that at Lisbon on November 1, 1755, when sixty thousand people were killed and the city laid in ruins. The present century has proved prolific in such convulsions of nature. In 1811 the western part of this country was visited by a great shock, traces of which are still to be found in the region extending from the mouth of the Ohio river to that of the St. Francis. On March 26, 1812, another earthquake destroyed the city of Caracas, Venezuela, burying beneath the ruins 12,000 of its inhabitants. From December 16, 1857, to January, 1858, the Kingdom of Naples was visited by violent shocks, and the loss of life is estimated to have been about 10,000. On June 19, 1858, the Mexican Republic and with it [illegible]. The city of Quito, Ecuador, was likewise shaken in March, 1859, and some thousands of lives lost. But more recently we had to chronicle the disastrous earthquakes in Central America and the West Indies last October, and in the Sandwich Islands in the beginning of April last.

CAPT. ERICSSON has constructed three engines to be run without the aid of coal or other fuel. The motive power is derived from the sun, and hence he denominates them "Solar Engines." [illegible] the other two by the expansion of the atmospheric air, heated by concentrated radiated heat. This novel invention was first submitted to the inspection of the Swedish University of Lund, and met with their enthusiastic approbation.

"ONE CURRENCY FOR ALL."

Democracy Responsible for Our Not Having It.

The Democracy are scattering broadcast through the state documents, the purport of which is that the United States bondholder gets the interest on his bond in gold. Hon. Edward McPherson, Clerk of the House of Representatives, has taken the trouble to examine the record to ascertain by whose votes in Congress the policy of paying the interest in gold was established. The result of his examination is given in the Gettysburg Star and Sentinel, as follows:

February 6, 1862, the House of Representatives, at Washington, passed a bill authorizing $150,000,000 of Treasury notes, and making them a "legal tender" for all debts and demands due to the United States, for all salaries, &c., due from the United States, and for all debts, public and private, within the United States. This bill passed—yeas 93, nays 59. But six Democrats voted aye, the rest nay. Had the bill become a law in that shape, there would have been but one currency for all.

The bill went to the Senate, where it was amended so as to make these notes a legal tender for all demands due to and from the United States, "except for interest upon bonds and notes which shall be paid in coin."

February 24, the House voted on concurring in this amendment making interest payable in coin, and it was concurred in, yeas 88, nays 55. But two Democrats voted nay, Joseph Bailey, of Pennsylvania, and Thomas E. Noell, of Missouri, both of whom were war men. Every other Democrat present voted to concur in the Senate's amendment, and to make the interest payable in coin. (See House Journal, 2d sess. 37th Cong. page 382.)

The Pennsylvania Democrats who so voted were, Ancona of Berks, Biddle of Philadelphia, Johnson of Northampton, Lehman of Philadelphia, and Wright of Luzerne.

Among the Democrats of other States who voted to make the interest payable in coin, were English, of Connecticut; Holman, Law and Voorhees, of Indiana; Cox, Noble, Nugen Pendleton and Vallandigham, of Ohio; and Knapp and Robinson, of Illinois.

There were 45 affirmative Democratic and 43 Republican votes. There were 55 Republican negative votes. The majority was but 33. Had the Democracy divided as nearly so, the proposition would have been defeated, and the opposite policy adopted. But they went solid, for the gold interest, and it prevailed.

Now, their party is raising a cry about its injustice, after their Congressmen cast their decisive votes, by which it was adopted!!

Could dishonesty further go?

Hold them to this record. Whatever of unfairness exists, is their fault. But it is too late now to change it—after the contract has been made.

We have stated the fact that the payment of interest on U. S. bonds in gold was forced upon the country by the votes of Democratic Representatives, of whom there were forty-five. Their names are as follows:

Syd. E. Ancona, Pa.
Charles J. Biddle, Pa.

This vote was upon concurring in a Senate amendment to the "Legal Tender" Act, by which "greenbacks" were not to be a tender for interest on United States bonds, which, it was provided, should be paid in gold. The issue was direct, upon this single question. The Republican vote was divided—43 being in favor and 55 against. THE FORTY-FIVE DEMOCRATS VOTED FOR IT AND CARRIED IT. Had they divided equally, the measure would have been defeated, and all these years there would have been but "one currency for all."

Among the Republicans who voted against this amendment of the Senate, and in favor of making "greenbacks" a "legal tender for all purposes," were Babbitt, S. S. Blair, Campbell, Davis, Hale, Hickman, Killinger, M'Pherson, Moorhead, Stevens, Verree, and Wallace, of Pennsylvania; Bingham, Blake, Harrison, and Worcester, of Ohio; Alley, Dawes, Fenton, Hooper, Spaulding, of New York and New England; and Julian, Maynard, Shanks, Sloan, Trowbridge, White, and James F. Wilson, of the Western States.

If any evils have followed this establishment of the existing coin interest, the responsibility belongs to those forty-five Democrats, whose solid vote settled the question, aiding therein a minority of the Republicans.

This record is to be found in the Journal of House of Representatives, 2d sess. 37th Cong., 382; or Congressional Globe, 2d sess. 37th Cong., Part 1, p. 900; or McPherson's Political History of the Rebellion, p. 358.

Let Democrats study it, and blush for the dishonesty of leaders who now repudiate a policy which their votes forced upon the country.

Professor Mahan in Defense of General Grant's Military Reputation.

To the Editor of the New York Times:

Some one has taken the trouble to send me several numbers of the New York World, containing a series of articles, of course very depreciatory, on General Grant's soldiership. Having no idea as to whose courtesy I am indebted for these, will you allow me, through the Times, to say to the unknown friend that, differing, toto coelo, from the views put forth in them, I have, for the last few years, since General Grant's name has become historical, represented his generalship in my lectures on the military art to the cadets of the United States Military Academy in a totally different light from that in which he is shown up in these articles; and that, so far [illegible] of my views, I shall continue to do so, so long as I have the honor to hold my present official position.

The military renown of Alexander rests upon his conquests of the undisciplined hordes of the East by the largest and finest army, in every respect, that Greece up to this time had produced; that of Hannibal rests upon his successful passage of the Alps into Italy, opposed only by the barbarous tribes on his line of march, and, consequently, by rash and incompetent Roman Consuls; Caesar's on his conquest of the semi-barbarous and rebellious tribes of Gaul, and his subsequent defeat of the demoralized forces of Pompey. Frederick the Great and Napoleon I. [illegible] on their victories over armies greatly inferior to theirs in discipline, and led by generals incompetent from age and military talent, while Grant has crushed one of the most formidable rebellions, whether we regard the numbers, the intelligence and the means engaged in it, that the world has ever witnessed; and, as alleged by his detractors, both at home and abroad, against leaders superior to himself in generalship, against troops superior to his own in chivalry, dash, and all other fighting qualities; operating in a country every inch of which was thoroughly known to them, and rendered defensive by all the resources of nature and art skilfully combined; and all this he did by measures of which he was the originator, [illegible] the most important and most difficult of the work to be done.

Happily for American patriotism, the descendants of the men who are now engaged in defaming Grant's military actions will live to blush for their sires, and glory in the grand results of Grant's triumphs; and when these detractions, which are as ephemeral as the sheets which contain them, now scattered broadcast through railroad cars and grogshops, and their authors shall long have passed away from the memory of man, Grant's name and military fame, like those of the great captains who have preceded him, will loom up grander and grander, as they recede into the mists of successive ages. Very respectfully yours,

D. H. MAHAN.

"CONSIDERABLE MERIT."
[From O. O. Thwing, M. D., New Philadelphia, O.]
NEW PHILADELPHIA, OHIO, December 21, 1864.
MR. CLARK: I am acquainted with several persons who have used Coe's Dyspepsia Cure, and from their testimony I am convinced that the medicine possesses considerable merit. I should be glad to recommend it to my patients who may need such a medicine, and also to use, when occasion may require, in my own practice; but our code of ethics, to which I freely subscribed, disallows me to use a medicine the ingredients of which I am unacquainted with. Most manufacturers of proprietary medicines do not hesitate to furnish their formulas to physicians, and if you are one of those, please send me your formula, and it is quite likely that it will lead to the sale of a few bottles, to say the least. I would suggest that it would be advisable to make depositories of the medicine in more places than you have in this State. There are many flourishing towns, where your medicine cannot yet be found, and where, I have no doubt, from what I know of the medicine, they would have a large sale. If you do not wish to have your complete formula known, please state the ingredients composing it.
O. O. THWING, M. D.

"VALUABLE THING."
[From James M. Clark, Baldwinsville, N. Y.]
GENTS: Allow me to say that, although, as a general thing, I have a pretty poor opinion of patent medicine, still I am disposed to regard your "Coe's Dyspepsia Remedy" as a valuable thing. From boyhood I have been troubled with the most terrible turns of sick headache that ever fell to the lot of suffering humanity, and, although I have swallowed almost every known specific for this disease, none has ever seemed to permanently benefit me but this "Coe's Dyspepsia Cure." I have not yet taken quite a bottle, and since I have commenced its use I have not had even a symptom of the headache. This is two months since. Previous to that I usually had it at least once a week, sometimes twice.
Respectfully, JAMES M. CLARK.

"THE BEST ARTICLE."
[From T. J. Rand, Muskegon, Mich.]
MUSKEGON, MICH., May 27, 1867.
Messrs. C. G. CLARK & Co.:
Having used Coe's Dyspepsia Cure, I can recommend it to all who are troubled with that complaint. It cured me after having suffered for ten years, and tried many other remedies without receiving any relief. I believe it to be the best article before the people for the cure of Dyspepsia.
Yours, &c.,
T. J. RAND,
Banker, Muskegon, Mich.

[From J. H. Moulton, Battle Creek, Mich.]
BATTLE CREEK, May 5, 1868.
Messrs. ANDREWS & GRANDINE, Druggists:
In reply to your inquiry as to results in using the bottle of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure we purchased from you, we take the first opportunity to state that having used it for Indigestion, I can certify that in my case it has proved itself a perfect cure.
I most cheerfully and earnestly recommend it to every one who has suffered from the ravages and horrors of this terrible disease. Yours truly
JOHN F. MOULTON.

"INSTANT RELIEF."
[From J. W. Niel, M. D., Delaware, Ohio.]
Messrs. CONNELL & Co., Druggists:
In reply to your inquiry as to results in using the bottle of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure we purchased from you, we take the first opportunity to state that, for a young man, I am an old Dyspeptic, and have tried almost everything in the line of prescriptions and formulas, from physicians and books, and never found anything to equal Coe's Dyspepsia Cure. The first dose I took of the Cure, I felt almost instant relief, and went about my business in a happier mood than I had for years before. After finishing one bottle, I arrived at the happy conclusion that I was cured, and had it not been for my own imprudence in eating, I doubt whether the disease would ever have returned. I most cheerfully and earnestly recommend it to every one who has suffered from the ravages and horrors of this terrible disease. Yours, truly,
J. W. NIEL, M. D.

"VERY MODEST."
[From H. M. T. Smith, Dunkirk, N. Y.]
DUNKIRK, N. Y., May 1, 1868.
GENTS—I inclose your circular. I know of two parties—wives of prominent citizens in this place—who have been greatly benefitted, if not cured, by the use of your Dyspeptic Cure, but they will not consent to the public use of their names. And thus the matter rests, with a steadily increasing sale.
Yours, respectfully,
H. M. T. SMITH.

"REPUTATION GAINING."
[From Rev. Allen Crowell, Brookville, Pa.]
LUTHERSBURG, PA., May 2, 1867.
MR. JOSEPH FLEMING:
SIR—"Coe's Dyspepsia Cure" is gaining a reputation amongst our people. The medicine already used is having the desired effect. A friend wishes me to get a bottle for him, for which I send you $1. Send to my address, as soon as possible.

And Your Mill will do Good Work
Our Saws are Oil Tempered, Patent Ground, made to Run Well.
You will find each Saw of one Temper, no Hard and Soft Spots in the same Saw.
We accomplish this by our Patent Tempering Process, and you can not get this from any other Saw Maker, as we own the Patents for the United States.
We do not claim to make a cheaper Saw than any one else, but one that will run at the word Go, and will give no trouble, and will keep round longer; because being uniform with Temper, it will not wear on one side faster than the other.
We invite correspondence, or an interview with the practical man of your firm.
